

HEAD acoustics hosts free online seminar on ANC headset testing

In their upcoming free online seminar “ANC Headset Testing – Making Sense of the Noise”, HEAD acoustics will provide insights into properly evaluating and optimizing ANC headsets and headphones. Therefore, the experts pick up results from own test sessions of the very best devices on the market. The focus was on ANC performance, talk-through mode capabilities, and voice calling quality.

In the course of the seminar, HEAD acoustics will present their state-of-the-art test solution, share results and interpret the data. The acoustic experts will also discuss where the HEAD acoustics approach differs and exceeds current practices. Attendees are invited to share experiences and deepen their knowledge in form of a Q&A session. The one hour online seminar is intended for acoustic engineers developing and testing headsets/headphones.
